Future 16 to 19 Level 3 and Level 2 landscape summary

LEVEL 3 OR LEVEL 2 APPRENTICESHIPS (WORK-BASED)	LEVEL 2	Foundation Certificates - Further Study Pathway (classroom-based) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> For students who want to, and are capable of, progressing onto further study on a level 3 pathway, whether T Levels, V Levels or A Levels, after one additional year at level 2. Strong focus on English and maths, alongside other enrichment activity and exposure to level 3 study. Includes a Foundation Certificate of 240-300GLH providing a balance of breadth and depth in a broad vocational area, with content set nationally. Foundation Certificates focus on applied and practical learning, with content aligned to the level 3 options they support progression onto. 	Occupational Certificates - Occupational Pathway (classroom-based) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> For students who want to enter a particular level 2 occupation and need to develop their technical knowledge and skills over 2 years, with the aim of progressing into skilled employment in relevant level 2 roles. Tailored to support progression to work, including employability and enrichment activity. Strong focus on English and maths. Includes an Occupational Certificate, with broad introductory content based on the occupational standards and set nationally, as well as occupation specific content. Size of the Occupational Certificate is driven by the relevant occupational standard.
	LEVEL 3	V Levels (classroom-based) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Provide broad, vocational qualifications for students who wish to explore a range of routes. Comparable in size to an A Level, V Levels can be studied alongside other qualifications such as A Levels or an English or maths retake. Blend applied learning with practical assessment, and their content will be linked to occupational standards set by Skills England. Enable progression to related higher education or an apprenticeship. 	T Levels (classroom-based) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The classroom-based technical route for students who know which broad career area they want to pursue. A single, large qualification equivalent to three A Levels. Based on occupational standards. Includes a minimum 45-day industry placement. Combine route-specific core content with a specialist component that develops threshold competence in an occupation. Enable progression to related higher education, apprenticeships, or skilled employment.

What we know so far – level 3

V Level = 360 GLH

The government aims to have only one V Level in a subject. Depending on the occupational route, there could be more than one V Level subject in a route.

Exceptional case

Will consider whether a V Level may be 'partnered' with one other V Level from the same route. A maximum of two V Level subjects in the same route can be studied together for 720 GLH.

Subjects

DfE will be publishing more details about available subjects in the Implementation Plan.

Range of Subjects

DfE will continue to refine the range of subjects to ensure they relate to the priority areas of the economy, such as those linked to the growth-driving sectors as set out in the Industrial Strategy.

T Levels

DfE will continue to test the viability of new T Levels including consideration of whether further design flexibilities are required and proportionate.

Further information on new T Level subjects will be set out in the Implementation Plan.

What we know so far – Level 2

Foundation Certificates

Size range of 240 to 300 GLH in a single year.

Foundation Certificates study programme

- Provides meaningful vocational area content and practical learning.
- Leaves sufficient time for English and/or maths.
- Ensures time for enrichment, employability, and pastoral (EEP) provision.
- Enables supported preparation for level 3.
- Provides flexibility for students with SEND or other forms of disadvantage.
- Fits within the expected hours of a full-time study programme.

Occupational Certificates

- Variable in size.
- Two-year study programme.
- Support tailored to preparing students for entry to work and which aims to be enriching and inspiring.

Range of subjects

DfE will continue to refine the range of subjects to ensure they relate to the priority areas of the economy, such as those linked to the growth-driving sectors as set out in the Industrial Strategy.

Summary of outcomes for Pearson BTEC qualifications

Confirms the introduction of new Level 2 pathways and a third vocational route at Level 3 – V Levels – alongside A levels and T Levels, recognising that learners need choice as they progress into work, further study or higher education.

FAQS

Will I be able to combine multiple V Levels for a full study programme, or does it need to include an A level?

- Yes, a programme of study can be made up of 3 V Levels and does not need to include A levels. However, there will be some limitations on how V Levels in the same subject area can be combined. It is still to be confirmed in coming years how many V Levels will exist in each subject area, and what the rules of combination within a subject might be.
- Note from the response to the Post-16 Skills consultation: 'The government aims to have only one V Level in a subject. Depending on the occupational route, there could be more than one V Level subject in a route. In a very limited number of exceptional cases, we will consider whether a V Level may be partnered with one other V Level from the same route (in a similar way to the model of maths and further maths A Level), which will enable depth of study whilst retaining flexibility and study programme breadth.'

Will the V Level replace current Diplomas (720 GLH)?

- V Levels in the sector areas announced by government will replace all current BTECs in those subjects but will only be available in 360 GLH (Extended Certificate) sizes, so they will not be a direct replacement in size. However, V Levels will be able to be combined with other V Levels or A levels to build a programme of study.

Can I switch from an Extended Certificate AAQ to an RQF 720 Diploma now that funding has been extended in my sector?

- No, the content and assessments in the AAQ are not shared with the first year of the RQF, so it is not possible to transfer from the AAQ to any RQF qualification.

What will study programmes look like when centres combine different types of qualifications - burden of teaching, learning and especially assessment and QA.

- It is recognised that moving from large qualifications to 3 smaller qualifications will mean a big change to how centres organise study programmes, combine qualifications and plan their time and teaching staff. We have produced options guides to help centres understand how different qualifications can be combined and will remain committed to designing teacher and learner-centric L2 qualifications and V Levels that seek to minimise admin and assessment burden wherever possible and make processes clear and straightforward.

Will learners be able to 'top up' from certificate (180 GLH) size AAQs to the Extended Certificate (360 GLH) AAQ if they decide to go on to a second year of study in the same academic year that V Levels are introduced in the subject?

- No, AAQs will be defunded on 31st July of the year prior to the first teach of the equivalent V Level, so topping up after that point will not be possible. In order to ensure a learner who may want to go on to a second year of study, we advise all learners are registered on the Extended Certificate in the year prior to defunding, which will allow them to 'drop down' to the Certificate after one year if they choose to, but ensures they are funded for the full 2 years should they want to continue.

Will BTEC AAQs be recognised given their short life? How will standards be set for such a short-lived qualification?

- Yes - BTEC AAQs are just the latest version of BTECs. BTECs are the most highly-recognised vocational qualifications for entry to HE in the UK. They carry the BTEC name, which means that universities and stakeholders will still know what these qualifications are decades from now. Over 250 university academics were involved in the development of the BTEC AAQ suite, and we received extensive letters of support from universities for the updated qualifications.

Thank you.
