Longman Primary Atlas for Zambia

This primary school atlas is an exceptional resource for every primary school classroom in Zambia. The atlas takes learners on a journey through their own country, Zambia. Learners then study Africa as a continent and, finally, the world.

Features of the atlas

✓ Revised and up-to-date view of Zambia, which includes all ten provinces and 106 districts.
✓ Fascinating range of maps with clear, detailed statistics and colour photographs.
✓ Uniquely designed eight-page activity section with maps that may be copied.
✓ Tailored to the new Zambian curriculum.
✓ Can be used by all learners up to Grade 9.

The Longman Primary Atlas for Zambia helps learners develop key map-reading skills and includes activities that are accessible to multiple grades.
English

Longman English Grades 5 to 7 offers:

✓ Full compliance with the knowledge, skills and values of the NEW Curriculum of 2013.
✓ Full coverage of the outcomes for listening, speaking, reading and writing skills.
✓ Many exercises to reinforce learning of grammar structures.
✓ A variety of reading and comprehension texts, including stories, poems and articles.
✓ Assessment activities at the end of each unit.
✓ Colourful illustrations and photographs.

UNIT 4 The sky

At the end of this unit, you should be able to:

- read and understand a story
- understand poetry and recognise rhyming words
- agree or disagree about statements
- write titles for texts
- use proverbs and sayings
- find out information about a given topic
- change verb from the past tense to the present tense
- use prepositions correctly
- choose the correct spelling for words
- read a calendar and use calendar words
- summarise information

Interpret information in pictures

You have a life history. All the important things that have happened in your life, like going to school, moving house or going on a long journey, are part of your life history. Here are pictures that show Sitali’s life history.

Chapter 1 Food and nutrition

When you have finished this chapter, you will be able to:
- make improvised kitchen utensils
- grill and steam different dishes
- prepare flour mixtures using baking powder
- decorate simple dishes.

Improvisation – make your own utensils

In Grade 5 and Grade 6, you got to know and use many items of kitchen equipment correctly and safely; equipment for measuring and equipment to prepare and cook food.

This does not mean that you cannot prepare food if you do not have the correct utensil. You can improvise by using something else or you can improvise by making your own utensil.

Cups
Condensed milk tins and smaller tins can be used as cups. Wrap wire that bends easily around the top and the bottom of the tin to make a handle. They can be used for hot liquids.

Small plastic bottles. Cut the top off and use the bottom part for cold liquids.

Small yoghurt containers can be used for cold liquids.

Use a file for metal or fine sandpaper for plastic to smooth edges and make them safe to use.

Ladles and spoons
Calabashes can be used as ladles or spoons.

The course includes Teacher’s Guides that offer teaching guidelines and answers to all exercises and activities in the Learner’s Book.

Trees
The shade from trees protects the soil so that it does not lose much water through evaporation. Trees also slow down the falling rain and so more water can sink into the ground rather than wash away.

Terraces
Sometimes farmers plant crops on terraces. A terrace is a flat area for growing plants. These areas are made on slopes. Terraces help to catch and conserve water.

Mosses
Mosses are tiny green plants. They do not have the same leaves, stems or roots as other plants. Mosses grow in damp, shady places such as on wet rocks or in forests.

Ferns
Ferns are green plants that do not have flowers. They do not make seeds. Ferns have leaves, roots and stems. They grow in warm, wet, shady places such as on the ground in a forest.

Fungi
Fungi are not plants. They are not green and they cannot make their own food. They do not have leaves, stems and roots. They get their food from other living things or from dead, rotting things. Examples of fungi are mushrooms, bread mould and yeast.

Activity 1
1. Work in pairs and discuss the questions in the table.
2. Make a copy of the table and fill in the missing information.

UNIT 6 Integers

When you have finished this unit, you will be able to:

- understand integers
- illustrate positive and negative numbers using a number line
- order integers
- add integers
- subtract integers.

Understanding integers

Activity 1

Look at this diagram that shows which numbers are integers and which numbers are not integers.

1. Discuss if these statements are true or false.
   a) An integer is a whole number.
   b) An integer is not a fractional number.
   c) An integer can be positive.
   d) An integer can be negative.
   e) Zero is an integer.

2. Describe and give examples of numbers that are integers.

3. Describe and give examples of numbers that are not integers.

Exercise 1

1. Represent each of these statements as an integer. The first one has been done for you.

2. Given this set of integers:
   \{ ..., -5, -4, -3, -2, -1, 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, ... \}
   a) Write down all the negative integers in this set.
   b) Write down all the positive integers in this set.

The number line

Understanding positive and negative numbers

Integers are whole numbers and are either positive \{1, 2, 3, 4, 5,...\} or negative \{-1, -2, -3, -4,...\} or zero \{0\}. No fractions and decimals are included.

Do you see that the numbers on the left are smaller than the numbers on the right?

UNIT 7 Communication and transport systems

Transport in the past
During the early Stone Age and Iron Age periods, most people were nomads. This means that they walked from one area to another looking for food. These nomads had to carry everything that they needed. Zambian people also moved around on rivers and lakes in dugout canoes. These were made from logs, in the same way they are made today. They also made wooden rafts. European settlers introduced the wheel to the people who lived in Zambia. This was the start of using ox-carts and ox-wagons as transport. Walking paths became wagon tracks. Eventually, the wagon tracks became roads. As contact between people grew, so did the number of roads. Vehicles on roads developed from animal-drawn carts to vehicles with engines.

Exercise 1
1. How did nomadic people travel long ago?
2. Why did nomadic people want to move around?
3. Why did Zambians start using ox-carts and ox-wagons?
4. Do you think people from long ago in your district used canoes or rafts? Explain why you say so.

Transport in Zambia today
A modern transport system allows people to travel around their own country and the world very quickly. Today, Zambian people move around in many different ways.

Walking
Many people in Zambia still walk long distances to visit other people and to fetch things needed at home, such as water and firewood. These people also use wheelbarrows to transport food aid, grains for milling, water containers, and building materials.

Answer 1
Answer these questions in groups: 1. Is it dangerous to walk in your district? If yes, what are the dangers? 2. What are the benefits of walking?

Bicycles
Many Zambians move around by bicycle. They use it to visit each other and to transport goods. Many children get to school by bicycle. This way of transport is popular because it is much cheaper than a motor vehicle and it does not need any fuel.
