Song

*Ocean animals are sometimes big,
Seals, sharks, and whales!
Ocean animals are sometimes small,
Starfish, jellyfish, and snails!*

I can see some starfish!
They have arms but they don't have hands.
They aren't swimming in the ocean.
They're hiding in the sand!

Chorus

I can see some crabs!
They have legs but they don't have paws.
They aren't hiding in the sand.
They're waving with their claws!

Chorus

I can see some seals!
They have hands and they have feet.
They aren't playing with a ball.
They're sleeping in the ocean!

BEN'S BLOG:

Hello! I'm Ben and I'm 10 years old. Welcome to my blog! I like writing about the world around us. I hope you enjoy reading my blog.

March 3rd

Today, I want to talk about our oceans! There's a lot of trash in the ocean. This trash is dangerous for the animals! How can young people help? Let's find out!

Clean the oceans!

Boyan Slat from the Netherlands has an Ocean Clean-Up project. His team picks up trash in the oceans. Then they recycle the trash. It's a great project!

Make a movie!

Some schoolchildren from Hawaii, United States, are making a movie. The movie is about trash in the ocean. There's a lot of plastic trash on the beaches in Hawaii. It's a terrible problem.

It isn't safe for the animals in the ocean. This movie is a great way to tell people about ocean trash.

Go to a beach clean-up!

It's Kids' Ocean Day in Los Angeles, United States. Look! There are 4,000 children at a beach clean-up! They're picking up trash. They're making a big picture at the beach, too. What animal can you see?

All these young people are helping the oceans but everyone can help. And I want to help, too! Let's have a clean-up at our beach!

Is there a beach, a park, or a forest close to your home? Can you help clean it up?

2 5.16 Listen and read. Circle the best title for the blog post.

- 1 Animals in the ocean
- 2 Young people and the oceans
- 3 My vacation by the ocean

3 Read again. Answer the questions.

- 1 How old is Ben?
- 2 Where does Boyan Slat come from?
- 3 What are the children from Hawaii doing?
- 4 What are the children from Los Angeles doing?

4 5.17 Listen. Which event from Ben's blog does the man talk about?

5 5.18 Listen again and circle.

- 1 The beach clean-up is at Seal Beach / Whale Beach.
- 2 The plastic trash is / isn't dangerous for ocean animals.
- 3 The beach clean-up is on Saturday July 3rd / 13th.
- 4 The beach clean-up starts at ten / two o'clock in the morning.

Lesson 7

- 1 ^{5.20} Listen, read, and write.
What event is Ben's poster for?

Where? Sunny Beach
When? Sunday August 4th
What time? 9:00-12:00

Come and help!

This is our beautiful beach.
Let's clean it up!

We can help the seals,
dolphins, and whales.

We can pick up trash from the beach and we can recycle it.

See you at nine o'clock in front of New Hotel!
