

Write a short story

Levels 4-6

Teacher's notes

This activity is creative and asks students to choose their favorite reader. They then use their imagination to write a short story about what happens next.

Students can place characters in a completely different story of their own and send them off on a new, exciting adventure or they can decide what happens next in the original story.

Writing stories like this helps young people to explore their ideas and express their creativity. It also helps practice sentence structure, vocabulary, and grammar at the same time.

Learning objective

- ★ GSE Writing: Can write two or three related sentences on a familiar topic.
- ★ GSE Writing: Can write short, simple texts on familiar topics in linked sentences.
- ★ GSE Writing: Can write a simple story with a clear sequence of events.

Short story

Think about your favorite book. Write a story about what happens next in this story. Use the reader to help you.

Here are some questions to help:

How many characters are in your story?

Where does the story happen? _____

What happens?

How does the story end?

What is the story called?

Short story

Draw a picture for the front of your story.
