

Global Politics

for the IB Diploma Programme

Pearson Global Politics for the IB Diploma Programme has been developed in cooperation with the IB to provide full coverage of the subject guide for first assessment in 2026.

The book includes the following features:

- opportunities for flexible teaching of the syllabus
- comprehensive coverage of the syllabus written by experienced IB teachers, examiners and curriculum specialists, and reviewed by the IB's subject matter experts
- full coverage of the Core, Thematic studies, the Internal Assessment and the HL Extension
- learning outcomes linked to the key concepts listed at the start of each chapter to help focus learners' minds
- feature boxes to add extra support, context and interest, including: TOK, hints for success, interesting facts, key facts, and weblinks
- activity boxes to help learners show their understanding
- case studies with room for additional individual research
- concepts and HL themes tagged to help learners identify links
- key words highlighted in bold with a full glossary for quick reference
- additional chapters dedicated to Paper 1, Paper 2, Paper 3, TOK and the Extended Essay
- practice questions to help prepare learners for their assessments
- eBook resources include additional teacher support and auto-marked quizzes

Carolina Chavez Fregoso is an Adjunct Professor of International Relations and Conflict Management at Tecnológico de Monterrey, Mexico City. She has taught IB Global Politics and helped to develop the curriculum. She holds an MA in International Conflict and Security from the University of Kent, UK, and an MA in Protocol and Soft Diplomacy Skills from the International School of Protocol and Diplomacy.

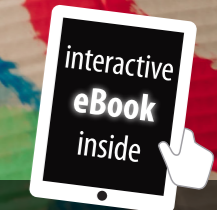

Michael O'Shannassy is the Head of Global Studies at UWCSEA (Dover), Singapore. He has a PhD in International Relations from the Australian National University. He is the Principal Examiner for the Global Politics Paper 2 and has also been an examiner for the IA Engagement Activity. He has been involved extensively in helping develop the latest IB Global Politics curriculum.

Stephan Anagnost teaches at the United Nations International School, Hanoi, Vietnam. He has taught TOK and Global Politics at IB world schools in Austria, Curacao, Ghana, and Vietnam. He is involved with the IB as an examiner, workshop leader, site visitor, and curriculum developer. Before teaching, Stephan worked for the UN High Commissioner for Refugees and later served in the UN Peacekeeping Mission in Kosovo.

Global Politics for the IB Diploma Programme

Global Politics

for the IB Diploma Programme

www.pearson.com/international-schools

ISBN 978-1-292-46352-0

9 781292 463520 >

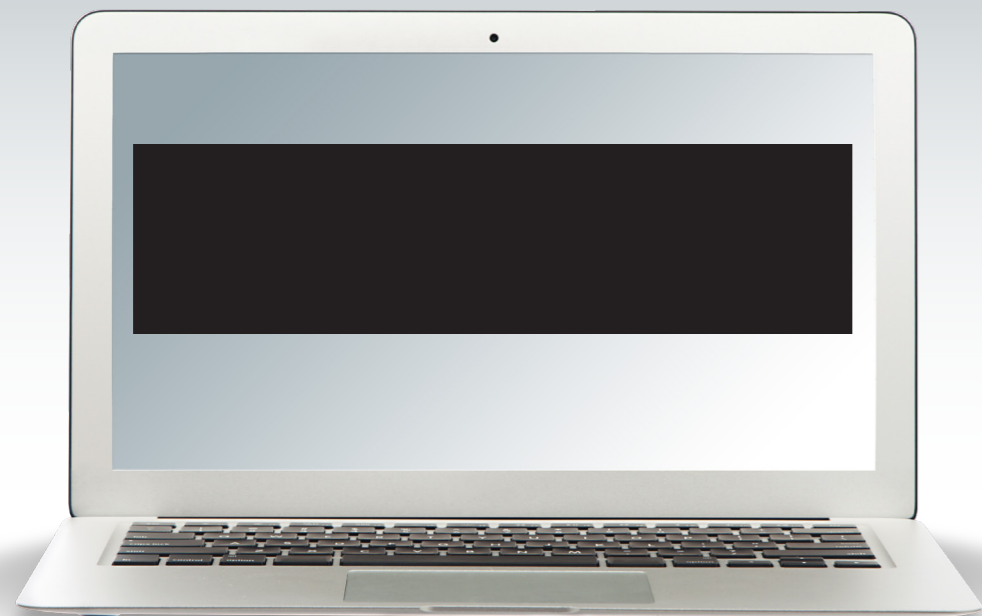

CAROLINA CHAVEZ FREGOSO
MICHAEL O'SHANNASSY
STEPHAN ANAGNOST

Online access to your ActiveBook

Thank you for buying Global Politics for the IB Diploma Programme. It comes with four years' access* to your ActiveBook – an online, digital version of your textbook. You can personalise your ActiveBook with notes, highlights and links to your wider reading. It is perfect for supporting your coursework and revision activities.

*For new purchases only. If this access code has already been revealed, it may no longer be valid. If you have bought this textbook second hand, the code may already have been used by the first owner of the book.

How to access your ActiveBook

1	Scratch off the panel with a coin to reveal your unique access code. Do not use a knife or other sharp object as this may damage the code.
2	Go to www.pearsonactivelearn.com
3	If you already have an ActiveLearn or ActiveTeach account, log in and click 'I have a new access code' in the top right of the screen. <ul style="list-style-type: none">Type in the code above and select 'Activate'.
4	If you do not have an ActiveLearn or ActiveTeach account, click 'Register'. It is free to do this. <ul style="list-style-type: none">Type in the code above and select 'Activate'.Simply follow the instructions on screen to register.

Important information

- The access code can only be used once.
- Please activate your access code as soon as possible, as it does have a 'use-by date'. If your code has expired when you enter it, please contact our ActiveLearn support site at digital.support@pearson.com
- The ActiveBook will be valid for four years upon activation.

Getting help

- To check that you will be able to access an ActiveBook, go to https://pearsonactivelearn.com/check_requirements.asp
- If you have any questions about accessing your ActiveBook, please contact our ActiveLearn support site at www.pearsonactivelearn.com/support