Imagine if you were not able to be open about your gender identity or sexuality - how might that make you feel?