Tell Edward's Story

Put the story in order

- The boy was infected with cowpox, but he was well again after a week.
- Edward Jenner took a 7 year apprenticeship and worked his way up to become a surgeon
- This was called a breakthrough and proved that the cowpox virus could give people immunity to smallpox.
- Edward Jenner heard that milkmaids who caught cowpox from their cows could not contract smallpox.
- Edward Jenner rubbed material from a cowpox infected person into some scratches on a boy's arm.
