

Flexible K–12 online learning solutions

Whether your district is looking for a full-time online learning program, a backup plan, or extra support, Pearson Online & Blended Learning can help you build a solution that's just right for you.

- Virtual School in a Box: Deliver a full-time online program using your teachers or ours, with K–12 courses designed for online learning, professional development for district teachers, and training and support from a district liaison.
- CoursewarePLUS: Build a program to suit your needs using our catalog of more than 500 courses and your district teachers, plus optional teaching and support services.
- District Backup Plan: Prepare for any disruption with a core course catalog and an organized, immediate virtual learning solution your district can transition to if needed.
- Teaching for Impact Course: Empower your staff with this self-paced professional development course covering the best practices we've learned from 18+ years of experience in online education.
- Special Populations Consultation Service: Provide consultation to your Special Education administrators and professionals on best practices in designing, implementing, and monitoring an online and/or blended program serving students with disabilities, including students with Section 504 Plans, Individual Education Programs (IEPs), and more.
