

[Music]

^M00:00:04

>> I'm Elayn Martin-Gay. I can't wait to see everybody again in person. I miss seeing people at conferences and learning from instructors all over the country. But I'm very excited that there's another ICTCM coming in October. Now, it will be virtual. Pearson has gone to great lengths to make this very user-friendly. So it's a great way to meet with colleagues. We're still innovating. We're still working with students. We're still trying to come up with creative ways to meet our students' needs. And for me personally, it's very exciting to -- and inspiring -- to talk to faculty about the impact they're having on their students. And it still is a great way to connect. So don't forget about October, another virtual meeting. This one hopefully easy-peasy ICTCM. Be safe. Have a great day.

^E00:01:12