

>> Hey, my name is Jaylen, I'm a second year finance major at the University of Central Florida.

^M00:00:06

For spring break, I decided to travel from my university in Orlando to visit my family in west Texas. And I did not expect to spend more than five days here.

^M00:00:17

Little did I know, I would not be returning back to my campus until the end of the semester.

^M00:00:22

And just like most students, the coronavirus outbreak really, really hit me hard.

^M00:00:27

I, my family just relocated to Texas and I have not had an opportunity to meet anyone here yet, and I don't have any friends. So, this is really impacting me socially. As far as my studies, it's going to be -- a little bit of an adjustment from everything, it used to be face-to-face interactions with my peers and professors, now everything's online. So, I don't think this is just going to be a transition for just us students, but I think it's us students, professors, and just our schools as a whole.

^M00:00:41