In the book and online, these instructional materials teach students how to make visual models to learn and do biology.