

“Where do you get your instructions from?” Charlie had asked.

“Wildlife Control. They send me emails on this digital watch,” Millie had explained. “And here’s your watch, because you need to help, too.”

And Charlie had agreed to become a Wildlife Warrior.

“Time to pack up, Year 2V!” said Ms Vallence.

Charlie’s teacher’s voice brought him back to the classroom.

Then he noticed Millie standing in the classroom doorway.

“I need to talk to you,” Millie whispered. “It’s urgent.”

Chapter 2

To the Arctic

“You have to leave now on your first mission,” Millie told Charlie. “The transport is waiting.”

As Millie and Charlie walked home, Millie explained the mission to him. “You’ll fly north from Perth up through Asia to the Arctic. The information is on your wrist watch. Veronica will tell you what to do.”

“I won’t let you down,” said Charlie, as he and Millie arrived home. They went straight to the backyard, where the Wildlife Control transport was waiting.

“Good luck,” said Millie as she walked Charlie to the open door. “Now, go!”
