

Harry and Lily sat at their table. They talked about the plan.

“We don’t need two play areas,” said Harry.

“No we don’t,” said Lily. “And that bookshelf can stay there.”

“Yes,” said Harry.

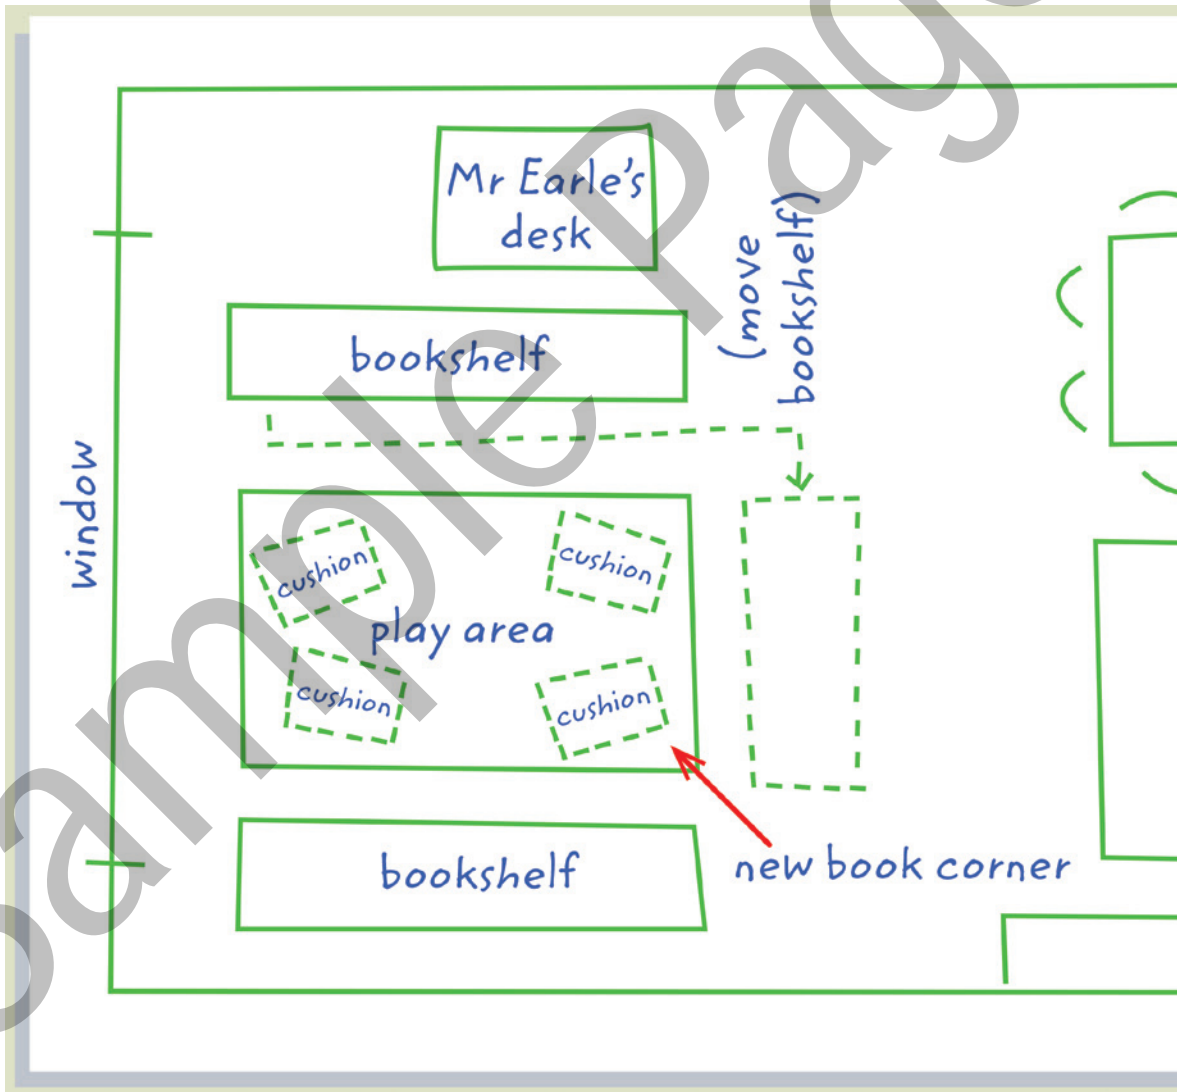

“What are you doing?” asked Ari.

“We are drawing a plan,” said Lily. “It will show where a new Book Corner can go.”

“I can help you build it,” said Ari.

Harry and Lily drew a plan. Mr Earle helped them write the words.

The plan showed where the new Book Corner could go.

There was one bookshelf to move. The toys in the old play area needed to move, too. They could go in the other play area near the door.
