

Connections

Most people have a special place where they feel safe and happy. They will have good memories about the place, and they will have a special connection with that place.

Rico often goes on bike rides in this park with his Dad.

Many people have a connection with the place where they live. Sometimes you can have special connections with other places, too.

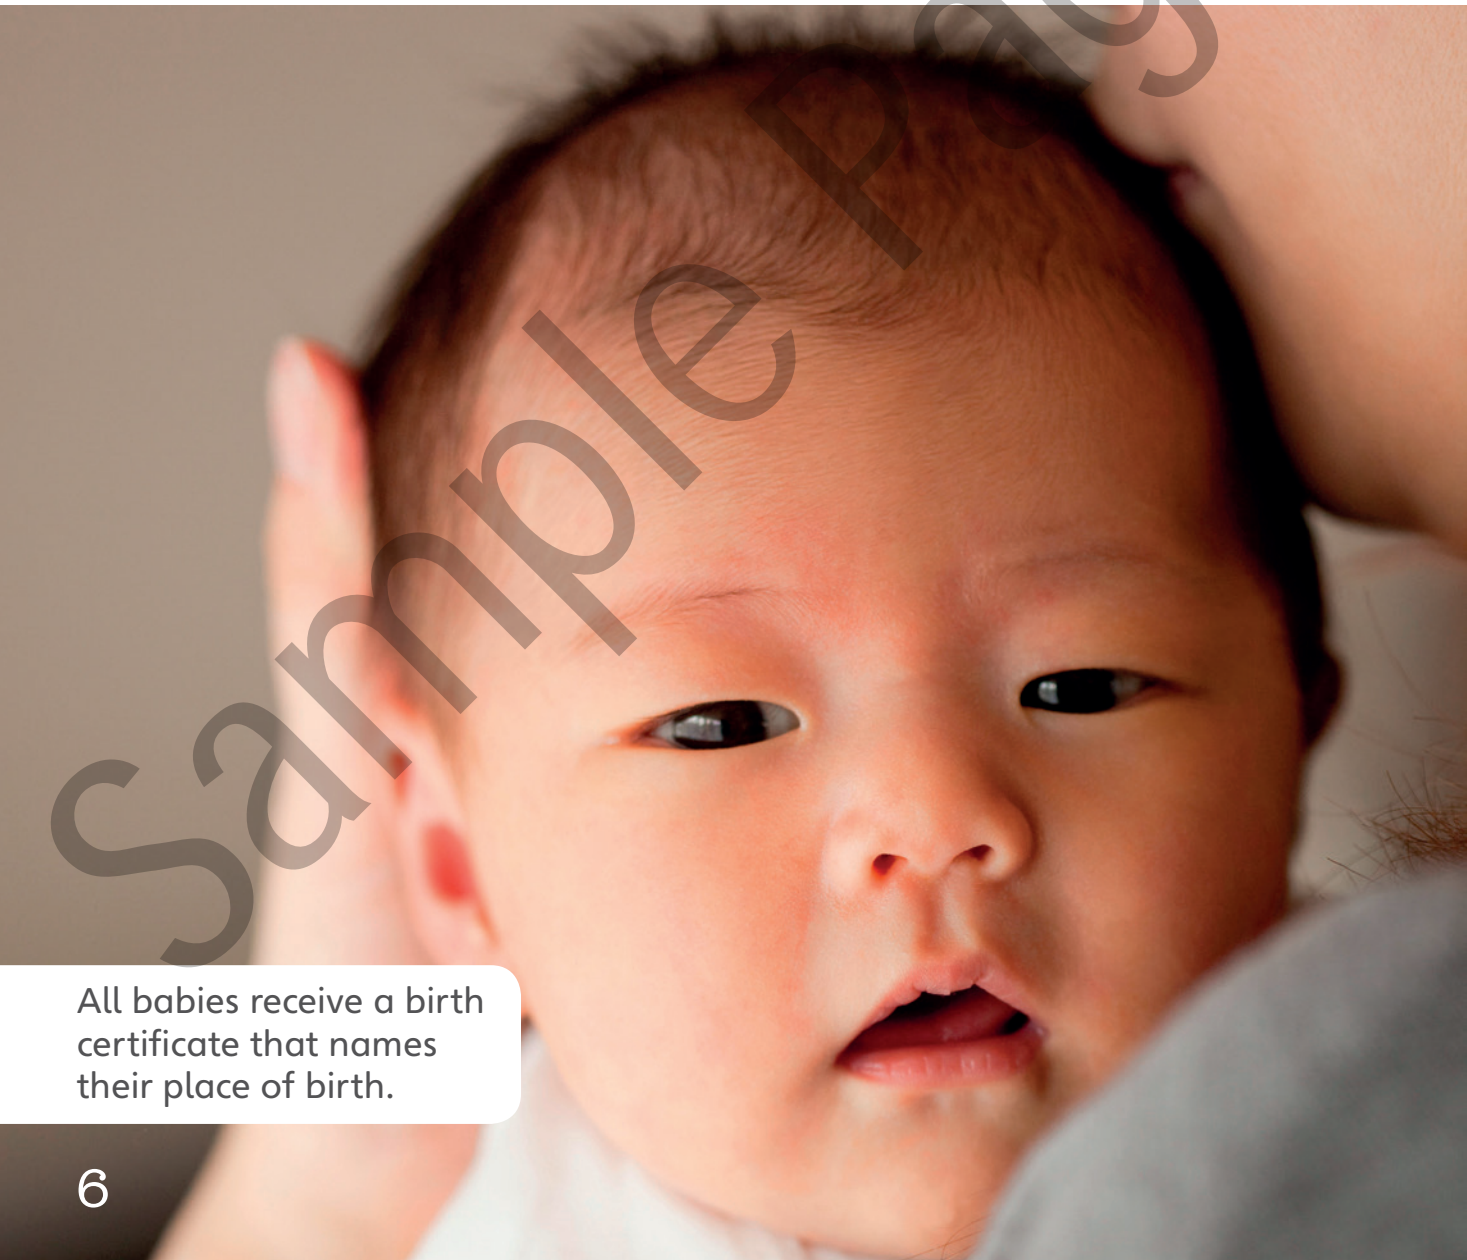

There are many reasons why people have special connections with places.

Hannah likes to visit her grandparents' farm. It's a special place for her.

Place of Birth

Many people have a connection with the place where they were born. This is often a town or city. You might even still live in the place where you were born.

All babies receive a birth certificate that names their place of birth.

Nathan's story

Hi. I'm Nathan. I was born in Humeville. I have lived in Humeville my whole life. I love my town because the people here are very friendly. I can't imagine living anywhere else.

Nathan has friends at his school, and he feels safe and happy in his town.
