

Some animals come out at night when it is easier to hunt for food.

Leopards often hunt at night.

This sloth sleeps in the daytime.

Some animals come out at night when it is safer. They sleep in the daytime so that other animals can't find them and eat them.