

Tilly had to watch her sheep every day. If one sheep went under the fence and onto the road, they all went under the fence and onto the road. If one sheep fell in a hole, they all fell in a hole.

“Why do you copy each other?” asked Tilly.
“Can’t you think for yourselves?”

Silly sheep!

